Here's to good friends.

These things are stronger than I thought.

I think I'm in love.

I never thought typing could be so thrilling.

Don't laugh. This is the latest thing in Paris.

STUDENT

The word "STUDENT" is rendered in a thick, hand-drawn, blocky font. Several stick figures are integrated with the letters: one figure is on the left side of the 'S', another is inside the 'U', a third is on the 'D', a fourth is on the 'E', and a fifth is on the 'T'. A sixth figure is positioned below the 'S', and a seventh figure is hanging from the top of the 'T' by a chain of small circles.

ACTIVITIES

The word "ACTIVITIES" is rendered in a thick, hand-drawn, blocky font. Numerous stick figures are integrated with the letters: two figures are on top of the 'A', one is on the 'C', one is on the 'T', one is on the 'I', one is on the 'V', one is on the 'I', one is on the 'T', one is on the 'I', one is on the 'E', and one is on the 'S'. A figure is also hanging from the bottom of the 'V' by a chain of small circles.

GRADUATION

To the class of 1981

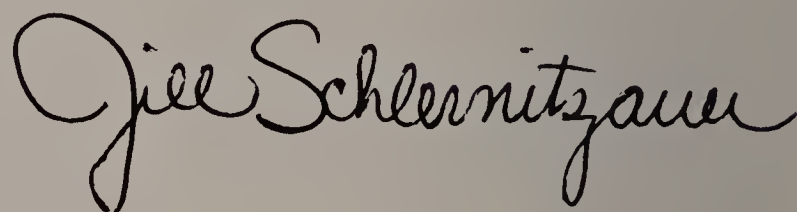

Our goal for this 1981 edition of the chief was to put together a collection of photographs and memories which we felt was a good representation of our and your senior year. Many people put many selfless hours into this publication and to them we extend our gratitude. We would also like to thank all those who contributed their own personal pictures or thoughts.

We have striven for originality throughout the production of this yearbook and we hope it will be enjoyed by all.

Best of luck always!
